

Dear Texas South Section,

In an effort to improve the quality of shooters and get you the products that you need to be competitive, I have set attractive pricing for all TSS members. Discounts range from a minimum 5% and up to 40% off for all of the merchandise in my store.

In order to get these prices you must register with a password with Power Factor shooting, and you must be a TSS shooter. Once you register send me an email(seangaines@comcast.net), notifying me that you have registered and I can put you in our TSS premier customer discount, which gives you discounts off of every item on my website. If you go to the website now you will just see the retail prices, along with some sales prices. Once you get registered and I put you in the "Premier Customer" status, then you will see the discounted prices while you shop every time you login to my website. If you have already registered please send me a quick email stating so. That will allow me to upgrade your status so that you can start receiving your discounts today! Also these discounts will last forever!!! We do have another pricing level but a requirement of $4,000 in total purchases is required for that level, in order to get even greater discounts. That pricing level will last you forever also once you reach that mark. It may take you 5 years to reach that level, but once you reach it, you are there. My website has the capability of storing all of your orders, and once you reach that level, you will automatically be upgraded to a "Gold Premier" Customer. The last level is "Platinum Premier", and the total purchases must reach an amount of $6,000. At this level, you are basically getting all of your shooting needs at dealer pricing!

Also remember to use the code "tss" in the coupon section at checkout to receive 10% off of Briley merchandise. They have been a big supporter of the texas south section and the space city challenge for over 20years, lets support the business that support us, and help make space city challenge a great match every year.

Instructions:

- Go to www.powerfactorshooting.com and register with the website.
- Send me an email (seangaines@comcast.net) stating that you would like to be a part of the TSS Premier Customer discount.
- I will then look at your name and find out if you qualify for the TSS premier discount (You must have shot a match in the TSS within the last year, just shooting the Space City Challenge doesn't count)

- I will then upgrade your status, and then you will be able to view your new pricing level each time you login.

I couldn't have done this business without the support of the TSS shooters, and this is my way of giving back to the shooters that have helped me so much! If you have any input on how I can improve the website, or what products I should have for sale, send me an email. I am always looking for fresh ideas!

Thank you for all your support and see you at the range.
